ILLUSION V

More than just an illusion, this yacht is a dream come true.

a dream come true.*

A beautiful 58-meter Benetti yacht, Illusion V made its debut at the Monaco Yacht Show in 2014 and rules the waves, sailing in both the Caribbean and Mediterranean seas. The sleek white hull is an enticing combination of classical yacht design with a contemporary allure.

The design duo of Tina Green and Pietro Mingarelli created the exterior lines as well as the impressive interior decor, which combines luxury with comfort throughout. Balinese influences can be seen in coconut and mother of pearl accents on exterior deck furniture, while the interiors sparkle with Lalique crystal, parchment, and silk. There is even a wooden Buddha for inspiration.

The design elements may be luxurious but also allow for fun and relaxation. Twelve guests can enjoy indoor and outdoor dining, as well as bars, sun decks, and a Jacuzzi surrounded by a lounging area. Noise reduction and improved stability help enhance the guest experience, while nautical toys, and gear for scuba diving and fishing add to the fun.

Green and Mingarelli used over 480 Lalique crystals in the interiors of Illusion V, carrying a rose motif onto the floors, the ceiling, and the walls, as Green often starts the design process with a floral image. In spite of such elegance in the design, Illusion V is an extremely comfortable yacht, providing a true home away from home for the owner while at sea.

Illusion V represents the latest in a series of yachts built for this client through Camper & Nicholson's sales broker Alex Lees-Buckley. Like its predecessors, this is also the perfect charter yacht, designed for a wide range of guests, from private to corporate groups, families, and friends, with a layout of cabins to accommodate couples, singles, children, and nannies alike. The highly professional crew, and long-standing captain assure the success of every voyage aboard Illusion V.
