There are few corners of the world's oceans that are out of reach when cruising on board RV Pegasus, a vessel built for an experienced owner with a passion for cruising to remote locations. She has a 10,000-nautical-mile range at 14 knots, her own submarine and a commercially certified helipad, allowing for true exploration.

With over 9,472 square feet of luxurious accommodation spread over four decks, RV Pegasus has five suites and an owner's deck with 360-degree views, an office and private terraces. The heli deck doubles as a large sun-deck equipped with Jacuzzi and gymnasium, and as an observation lounge in which to recuperate from your exertions.

RV Pegasus's bridge deck caters to a variety of uses, with a dining area and bar, a spacious saloon that converts into a cinema room and an aft deck with extensive seating and dining areas.

For those looking for further adventure, RV Pegasus carries an extensive range of exploration and water sports equipment, including a submarine certified to about 1,722 square feet and two large tenders, jet skis and the latest scuba diving equipment. She also has a fully equipped science laboratory with wet lab and a film production center, allowing budding wildlife photographers the opportunity to develop their own pictures while still on board.

Following a winter season in the Caribbean, RV Pegasus will begin expeditions across international waters in early 2013.
